- You learn and improve with feedback: Multiple touchpoints with our instructors to show how much you are progressing in your learning journey.
- You learn more when you see results: Track your progress with report cards and celebrate your success. Over 40,000 ELS students have matriculated to university – you can, too.

NEW IN 2020: ONLINE LEARNING

As soon as you apply to ELS, you will receive access to an online pre-arrival assessment and an online self-study course to help you prepare for your studies abroad. You will also supplement your in-person classes with online practice sessions. Upon completion of your ELS course, you will continue to receive access to additional online content.

MULTI-MEDIA TECHNOLOGY

ELS Toronto and ELS Vancouver campuses and classrooms have been transformed: Our centers are modernized and our classrooms are more engaging, with the addition of a new suite of multi-media technological tools available for our teachers and students. The facility and course delivery improvements will be supported by ELS's new National Geographic curriculum.

FIND YOUR LEVEL

Before you begin taking classes, we will determine your level of proficiency so we can place you in the correct level. If you have already taken the TOEFL iBT®, IELTS™, or GTEC, your scores might automatically qualify you to begin at the specified ELS levels indicated on the ELS 12-level chart (on the left of this page). Simply submit your TOEFL iBT, IELTS, or GTEC score along with your ELS application or anytime before you take the ELS placement test. You'll still take our placement test when you arrive at the center because it might indicate that you should start at a higher level than what your standardized test scores indicate.

NEW CURRICULUM AND INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS

ELS has partnered with National Geographic Learning to produce custom instructional materials specifically for the Structure and Speaking and Reading and Writing classes. The new materials combine the engaging content for which National Geographic is famous with comprehensive learning activities that focus on the effective use of the English language in meaningful and productive activities, and all unparalleled in its visual presentation. The materials also include robust digital content to enhance the learning experience for you both in and out of the classroom.
